Dandy Gets Ten Months

Frank Dandy, of Wrangell, indicted for giving liquor to Indians, and pleading guilty, was sentenced to ten months in the federal jail. It developed that Dandy had a saloon license revoked some years ago, following a conviction for selling liquor to Indians. He pleaded an injury to his head, which, when he drinks, causes a lapse of memory and much confusion. The court severely panned Dandy, giving him a chance by sending him to jail.—Dispatch.

Changing Lighthouse Men

There has been considerable shifting in Lighthouse keepers during the past couple of weeks. Keeper Adamson has resigned from Eldridge Rock and is aboard the tender for the states. He has been succeeded by keeper A. Jewett, formerly of Tree Point. Keeper Peterson has gone from Sentinel Island to Lincoln Rock, and has been succeeded at Sentinel Island by keeper Bonderson, formerly of S. E. Five Fingers.—Ex.

New Man In Charge

Phil T. Megaarden, the new manager for the Pacific Coast and Norway Packing Co., at Petersburg, has taken charge and is now at the helm. When questioned by The Sentinel as to his plans for the future he stated that it was as yet too soon to do much talking, except to say that he intended to see to it that the different branches of the institution were so run as to show a profit at the end of the year. The people of Petersburg, generally, welcome the change of management, and hope to see benefits resulting therefrom in the near future.

Nobby Calendars

There are calendars and calendars, but the ones which strike our fancy the best, seen thus far this season, are those which "Jack" Worden has turned out. There are a radical departure from the ordinary form of a "chromo" calendar, the illustrations being all actual photographs of local scenes.

Fur Dealers Attention

In response to inquiries of local fur dealers, Governor Clark this week notified them that he had made arrangements with the customs authorities whereby all skins of black bear and other fur-bearing animals, killed prior to the act of April 21, 1910, were to be registered and marked for identification on or before the 31st day of December at the local customs house. This order will apply particularly to beaver and other animals the killing of which is forbidden for some time to come.

A Birthday Party

A very pleasant party was held last Saturday afternoon at the Sinclair residence in honor of the ninth birthday of little Miss Edna. Games of various kinds were played by the young folk, and dainty refreshments served. Those present were: Hattie Anderson, Talitha Ensley, Liberty Worden, Gusie Leonard, Belle Hood, Alice Kincaid, Helen Hofstad, Geraldine Koebler, Irene Coulter, Margery Grant, May Goodrich, Florence Prescott, Elsie Sylvester, Ruth Sylvester, Mary Smith, Hannah Smith, Esther Tervo, Clara Tervo, Alfreda Emery.

Youngster Around Again

After having had a hard time of it as the result of a broken leg, little Harold Anderson is able to be around again. The injured member has apparently knitted together again, and with the exception that it is a little stiff from such a long period of inaction, is apparently almost as well as ever.

The Fish Situation

Word comes from Petersburg that the catch of halibut is getting slim, with the result that the price has an upward tendency. Bait remains fairly plentiful, good hauls of herring being made here in the bay. After Christmas it is expected that several local boats will begin operations, intending to ship halibut from here.

"Jack" Collins gave a very enjoyable dance at Redmen's Hall, Saturday evening.

Don't suppose you will notice any difference in your electric light bill yet awhile, but the days are getting longer.

Mrs. Mathis, who was quite sick last week, is around again.

Report Mining Deal

L. T. Watson, of Prince Rupert, was a local visitor for a day or two the beginning of the week. As usual, Mr. Watson is full of mining deals, either made or in the making. One he reports, which, if true, will mean much to Wrangell. It is to the effect that a syndicate headed by Elliott, well known mining man of British Columbia, has lately closed a deal whereby they acquire possession of the Kirk copper property near Glenora. This property has been prospected pretty thoroughly, as one man who is in a position to know says, "Much of the ore is high grade, and will no doubt increase as depth is reached. It will easily pay for shipping down the river, especially if, as Mr. Watson states, the company interested puts its own line of steamers on the run."

According to all appearances—we're not going to mention any names—there will be a job in town in the marrying line for one of the ministers, shortly.

Christmas Services

The different local religious institutions are making preparations for their Christmas services. At the Catholic church Midnight Mass will be sung Saturday night, and special services conducted during the day Sunday.

The Presbyterian church will hold its Christmas services Sunday evening at seven-thirty. It will of course be largely a song service of music especially prepared for the occasion, consisting of solos and duets; quartets and congregational singing. A cordial invitation is extended to the public at large by Rev. Clark and the members of his congregation to come and assist in and enjoy the services. Monday night there will be Christmas trees and Christmas Services by and for the Sunday School. The services will be public and the town folk in general are invited to attend and enjoy the children's pleasures with them.

Sing Lee came over from Petersburg the latter part of last week.

THE SCHOOLMARM

The teacher in the country school, expounding lesson, sum and rule, and teaching children how to rise to heights where lasting honor lies, deserves a fat and hand some wage, for she's a triumph of the age. No better work than her's is done beneath the good old shining sun; she builds the future of the state; she guides the youth who will be great; she gives the childish spirit wings, and points the way to nobler things. And we, who do all things so well, and of our "institooshuns" yell, reward the teacher with a roll that brings a shudder to her soul. We have our coin done up in crates, and gladly hand it to the skates who fuss around in politics and fool us with their time-worn tricks. In congress one cheap common jay will loaf a week and draw more pay than some tired teacher, toiling near, will ever see in half a year. If I was running this old land, I'd have a lot of statesmen canned; and congressmen, and folks like those, would have to work for board and clothes; I'd put the lid on scores of snaps, and pour into the teacher's laps the wealth that now away is sinned, for words and wigglejaws and wind.—Walt Mason.

Northern Happenings

son, was drowned at 79 below on Bonanza.

Walter Swan has resigned as agent for the Pacific Coast Co. at Juneau.

Brisk travel over the Dawson trail is reported. A large portion of the journey is still made on wheels.

The starting of a stamp mill at Chena was made the occasion for a big celebration and an excursion was run from Fairbanks.

The Whitehorse Star says that the Big Thing mine at Carcross has resumed operations which will continue indefinitely.

Gold was discovered on Otter creek, a tributary to the Iditarod on Christmas day, 1908, by W. A. Dikeman and John Beaton.

Forty-one horses shipped from Cordova to Seattle on the steamship Olympia were killed by the rolling of the ship in the heavy seas.

The output of the Hot Springs district this year is nearly a half million, and the knockers are beginning to wake up, says the Yukon Valley News.

Two customs mills, aggregating 20 stamps, will be busy crushing out gold from the quartz of the many mines adjacent to Valdez next summer if the plans of the Chicago-Alaska Development company mature.

Indians in the Mt. McKinley district are said to be on the war path. The report states that several whites have been killed and prospectors and miners are in danger.

Better have your teeth put in shape. Dr. Mathis guarantees all his work.

JUST PUBLISHED

Webster's NEW INTERNATIONAL Dictionary, (G. & C. Merriam Co., Springfield, Mass.) surpasses the old International as much as that book exceeded its predecessor. On the old foundation a new superstructure has been built. The reconstruction has been carried on through many years by a large force of trained workers, under the supervision of Dr. W. T. Harris, former United States Commissioner of Education, and reinforced by many eminent specialists. The definitions have been rearranged and amplified. The number of terms defined has been more than doubled. The etymology, synonyms, pronunciation, have received unsparing scholarly labor. The language of English literature for over seven centuries, the terminology of the arts and sciences, and the every-day speech of street, shop, and household, are presented with fullness and clearness. In size of vocabulary, in richness of general information, and in convenience of consultation, the book sets a new mark in lexicography.

400,000 words and phrases.

6000 illustrations.

2700 pages.

Some Fine Furs

That all the marten have not been cleaned out was demonstrated this week when Frank Adams and "Ted" Cunningham arrived over from the Bradfield canal country with as fine a little bunch of skins as has been brought to town for some time. The skins were dark, and almost all of them prime, and brought a good price.

The school of mines at the University of Washington opens on January 4th and lasts three months. No examinations are required for entrance and there are no charges except for books and materials actually used.

Dr. Cook admits he faked the North Pole story, but claims temporary insanity. Many think he was suffering from just such an affliction when he told his Mt. McKinley story.
